

"RB Kelly's lively, engaging presentation on body language had my group completely fascinated."

-Judy Barrett, Broker, Owner, Realtor

"RB, I have been to many sales training courses throughout my life... Your class was without a doubt one of the very best and most useful presentations I've ever seen."

-Sean Wingate, HBR North Shore Regional President

RB likes motorcycles, bright red lipstick, and making a striking first impression. As a Certified Body Language Expert, she makes the science of nonverbal communication accessible, relevant, and applicable for audiences of all backgrounds. Her work as the Body Language Boss brings front-and-center the idea that what we communicate with our facial expressions and bodies can be read and understood as a language, then utilized by the reader to build better understanding, connection, and achievement.

Some people are surprised to learn that growing up, the now posed, polished, and kick-butt confident RB had such a hard time reading people, understanding social norms, and connecting to others that she was thought to be slightly autistic. She started studying body language in high school to try to figure people out. Through extensive study, trial, and a whole lot of error, she finally started to 'get people' in a way that made her more confident, successful, and fulfilled.

Now, she specializes in bringing the power and skills of nonverbal communication to her audiences through compassion, connection, and her powerful (and humorous) personal story.

No matter the size, age, or demographic, people train with RB to become confident, effective, and empowered communicators. She's a speaker and trainer who captures the audience in the first 5 seconds, and rocks it from there.

Lively storytelling, relatable & concrete examples, and easy-to-follow practical how-tos keep her audiences engaged, entertained, and educated. RB arms audiences with skills & knowledge to take things to the next level in work, life, love.
